

TROMBONE

The image shows a Trombone instrument with a musical score overlaid on it. The score is on a white background with black and red markings. The instrument is a dark-colored trombone with a slide and a bell. The score is partially obscured by the instrument's body. The score includes a treble clef, a key signature of one flat (B-flat), and a 2/4 time signature. The music consists of a single melodic line with various notes, rests, and dynamics. A red 'f' (forte) dynamic marking is visible. There are also some red markings on the score, possibly indicating fingerings or breath marks. The instrument is positioned horizontally across the top half of the image, with the bell pointing to the right. The score is positioned below the instrument, with the first staff starting around the middle of the instrument's body. The overall image has a slightly grainy, high-contrast appearance, possibly due to a scan or a specific artistic style.
